SHERMAN LAW WILL SOLVE TRUSTS

So Says President Taft in His Third Message to Congress
During This Session

WANTS BRITISH USAGE FOR U. S. GOVERNMENT

Urges Special Pure Food Court and Revision of Land Laws
Also Advised

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Declaring that his view of the trust question was to let well enough alone—that under the Sherman law the problem would solve itself—and advocating a change in the American government, a system to bring it in conformity with British usage, President Taft today submitted to Congress his third message for this session.

The message also dealt with the affairs of the interior, agriculture, post-office and commerce and labor departments.

In his message President Taft outlined his policy on trusts: "A commission looking to fixing prices is altogether impracticable and should not for a moment be considered a solution of the trust question. "The trust question, by enforcement of the Sherman law, is gradually solving itself and is maintaining the principle and restoring the practice of competition. If the law is quietly and firmly enforced business will adjust itself to statutory requirements and the commercial unrest provoked by the trust discussion will disappear."

President Taft urged that a special court hear appeals in the enforcement of the pure food law and the revision of the land laws to secure proper conservation and yet permit development; for the readjustment of the pay of railroads carrying mail; and for generous appropriations for the San Francisco exposition. He proposed a plan to seat members of the cabinet in congress which was apparently modeled after the system in use in the British parliament, to answer questions of which they have due notice.

Of this he said: "The rigid holding apart of the legislative and executive branches of the government has not worked to the advantage of either. It was not intended that they should be separated in the sense of not being in constant and effective touch and relationship to each other. Time and again debates have arisen in congress upon the issues of which the information of a particular head of a department would have enabled him, if present, to end immediately by a simple statement. The presence of a cabinet member on the floor of each house would greatly contribute to the enactment of beneficial legislation."

Enlarging on this subject President Taft said the plan was not new and that a favorable report was made in the thirty-eighth congress on a plan which was almost identical.

The message also predicted that the postal banks which now are running at a deficit of $300,000 per annum will be self-sustaining when their deposits reach $50,000,000.

The President's message also defends the recent placing of 38,000 third and fourth class postmasters under civil service and denying that the reform was undertaken from "political motives."

15-Year Old Boy Suicides After Father Chides

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—The body of Willie Smockieo, aged fifteen, shot through the mouth, was found in a vacant lot adjoining the home of his father, Harry Smockieo, a grocer. The boy borrowed a revolver from a friend last night. The police believe the case one of suicide. The boy's mother was frantic when the body was recovered. Several officers were required to restrain her.

His father reproved the boy last night. He disappeared and did not return throughout the night.

HE STOOD OFF POLICE FORCE OF MEMPHIS

10,000 People Saw 2-Hour
Fight Where Adam Boehler,
Wife Slayer, Was Slain

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 19.—With ten thousand spectators looking on, the entire police force attempted to dislodge Adam Boehler, who had barricaded himself in his home after cutting his wife's throat, almost decapitating her. He mortally wounded Policeman Jesse Wooten, and less seriously wounded two spectators. After two hours' fight he was mortally wounded by the officers and was taken dying to a hospital.

When the besieging officers, answering the first call, surrounded the house, demanding his surrender, Boehler defied them. After exchanging one hundred shots, Mayor Crum ordered out the entire police department. Meanwhile the crowd grew and the police had difficulty in restraining them. Two officers mounted to the roof, bored holes and poured in formaldehyde, attempting to force the man out to the street. Crum finally ordered a general charge. During this charge Wooten was fatally shot and two spectators wounded. Detectives Smidley and Hurst, gaining a point of vantage, fatally wounded Boehler, who later died at the hospital.

MORGAN DENIES HE HAS GREAT POWER

Gives Testimony Before Money
Trust Probe and Talks
Very Freely

ADMITS HE CONTROLLED SEVERAL APPOINTMENTS

Says Commercial Control is Possible But Financial Control is Impossible

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—J. Pierpont Morgan resumed the stand in the House money trust probe at 10:28. The committee room and corridors were jammed.

Morgan on the stand said that Morgan & Company has the "exclusive right to market securities of the New York Central and New York, New Haven & Hartford railways. He admitted that the firm acts for the Steel Corporation and others, but the agreements are tacit, not written. He admitted that he approved of the entire board of directors of the Steel Corporation when it was organized, denying, however, that he actually named the members of the board. He admitted that he named Judge Gary as chairman of the Steel Corporation's executive committee, and that he had decided that the Morgan company would be the agents for the corporation's securities.

Morgan denied that it may be feasible for corporation securities to be sold in open competition, like federal or municipal bonds to get a higher price. He was still on the stand when the committee ordered a recess until 1:45 this afternoon.

Morgan explained in detail how powerful banks unceremoniously scrambled for the stocks the Morgan company issued. He described how their shares were arbitrarily allotted in varying amounts.

Replying to Undermyer's question if he opposed competition, Morgan said:

"No, I like a little of it; but I favor co-operation and concentration. I want to talk about this. It will probably be the last chance to say what I want to. I don't believe there is a way one man can gain control of the nation's money. You call this a money trust. A man may own all the money in Christ's kingdom, but he can't control it."

Undermyer interrupted him, saying: "But if a competitor of the Steel Corporation wants to start in business and you owned all the banks in New York, wouldn't you want to protect the Steel Corporation? Would he get the money he needed?"

"But you have vast power," began Undermyer.

"No," Morgan interrupted, "I have not vast power. If I have I don't feel like it."

"But haven't you seen instances of men gaining great control and abusing it?" Undermyer persisted.

"Only in some lines," Morgan answered. "I am talking of commerce, not money. Commercial control is possible, but financial control is impossible."

Mr. Morgan was excused at 3:24 and the committee adjourned until Jan. 6.

OFFICERS BELIEVE HIM TO BE MATLOCK, BUT EUGENE RELATIVES NOT CONVINCED

Rev. C. R. Moore Positive in Identification of Corpse as Matlock's, McClanahan
Says no One Can Tell Certainly

Coroner Winbigger received a telegram this afternoon stating that J. D. Matlock, father of Joe Matlock, will leave Eugene, Oregon, for Santa Ana at once.

First Lead Matlock—Sheriff Ruddock and Coroner Winbigger are convinced that the desperado who on Monday killed Under-Sheriff Squires and wounded three other men is none other than Joe Matlock, son of ex-Mayor J. D. Matlock of Eugene, Ore.

This morning Rev. C. R. Moore of Anaheim positively identified the corpse as Matlock's.

At noon today C. N. Killingbeck, who lives at the corner of First and Sullivan streets, said that in his opinion the man was Matlock, but he would not be positive.

At 1:30 o'clock E. E. McClanahan of Los Angeles, who says he knew Joe Matlock as well as anyone and who saw him last three weeks ago, said that in many ways the resemblance to Matlock was perfect, while in others he was doubtful.

Coroner Winbigger expects to bury the remains tomorrow. If the Matlocks of Eugene, Ore., do not order otherwise, and at present the indications are they will not, he will be buried at the expense of the county. There is now no expectation here that the remains will be claimed at Eugene.

"I do not believe anyone could positively identify this man as Matlock," said McClanahan. "If it were shipped to Eugene, I do not believe his relatives would accept it as Matlock. Still he has the Matlock features. His face is like Joe's. He seems much heavier than Joe seemed, yet some of that may be due to swelling since death."

"Joe used to smoke cigarettes nearly all the time. He was rather corpulent, flat of chest. If this is he, I am surprised that he wore such heavy shoes. He ought to have longer fingers, it seems to me."

"I have seen him a number of times in Los Angeles. For awhile he worked in a garage. Sheriff Hammel and Deputy Aguirre went to get him there once and got there thirty minutes too late."

"He told me about being shot at Porterville by a bullet that went through the side of a house. That fits the story of Hudson, who shot this Curran."

McClanahan said that Joe had cost his relatives thousands of dollars. He stabbed a man once, and got into trouble twice over attacks upon girls. After trial, pending an appeal, he escaped. I know he could not be in Australia, as claimed at Eugene, because I have seen him in the last three weeks."

In leaving the morgue, McClanahan said to Sheriff Ruddock: "I think that you won't have to look for Joe Matlock any more."

Attended the Trial
C. N. Killingbeck said that he was present when Matlock was tried for an assault upon a girl at Eugene in 1910. He was of the opinion that the dead man is Matlock, but would not be positive.

Many Contradictions
The case offers many baffling details. There is little question, however, but what C. C. Curran, known at Glendale and Inglewood by that name, and Matlock are the same. J. Wiley Harris of Santa Ana is positive that the dead man is the man who borrowed $5 from him and signed his name as C. C. Curran. That line of argument seems to tie the identification as Matlock up in a very tight manner.

Yet today comes word from Stratford Hudson of Inglewood that throws some doubt on this being Curran. He says that the two Haenggi girls have seen a tattoo mark on his forearm, the name of a girl. He says that Curran had a distinct scar on the point of his chin, where he said a mule had kicked him. On the corpse is a very slight, long angular scar.

A United Press dispatch from Eugene, Ore., received today, says: "Eugene, Ore.—Despite assurances from Santa Ana authorities that the dead thug who attacked Myrtle Huff is Joe Matlock, Sheriff Brown here denies it. He says Matlock had tattoo marks on his arms and chest, and a scar across breast, which descriptions of the thug do not contain."

There are no tattoo marks on the corpse.

W. H. Hall of Glendale says that Curran should have distinct gold filings showing in his teeth. There are no distinct gold filings in the teeth of the corpse.

He is Positive
The first positive identification of the dead man as Joe Matlock, son of J. D. Matlock, ex-mayor of Eugene, Ore., was made at 10:45 o'clock this morning by Rev. C. R. Moore, pastor of the Christian church of Anaheim. Learning that Rev. Moore had known the Matlock family well, Sheriff Ruddock telephoned the Anaheim minister to come here this morning.

DEAD BODY OF LAWRENCE FOUND

Corpse Identified as That of Newspaper Companion of Aviator Kearney

BODY WAS FOUND SEVEN MILES SOUTH OF REDONDO

Broken Watch Shows 5, Hour of Disaster; Wife Collapses;
Search for Kearney

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 19.—The body of Chester Lawrence, the newspaper man who accompanied Horace Kearney in an attempted hydro-aeroplane flight from Long Beach to San Francisco, washed ashore at Rocky Point, 7 miles south of here, this morning, and was identified by Capt. P. A. Minor of Redondo and others who knew him personally.

He was clad in a gray sweater and a heavy coat, both pulled over the head with the right hand twisted in the coat sleeve, indicating that he tried to divest himself of his heavy clothing when he fell in to the water but was unable to do so. His broken watch showed five o'clock, which may indicate the hour of the catastrophe. His nose was broken and his face scratched.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—A body, later positively identified as that of Chester Lawrence, was found in the spot where the life preserver and other wreckage came ashore last night. Mrs. Lawrence gave up hope and collapsed when she was given a description of the clothing in which the body was clad. The body wore a gray sweater marked "Press car," corduroy trousers and high laced boots.

"That's my husband," sobbed the wife.

A silver watch was dangling from the vest with the minute hand broken and the hour hand pointing to 5 o'clock, the hour probably when the hydro-aeroplane went down into the devouring sea.

McCullough Arrives for Search
OXNARD, Dec. 19.—The revenue cutter McCullough arrived today from Mare Island to search for the bodies of Kearney and Lawrence, missing since Saturday afternoon when they started on a hydro-aeroplane flight to San Francisco from East Newport. The McCullough at once started for the Anacapa Islands, where it was rumored at one time that the men had been seen, although search later failed to reveal any trace of them.

The commander of the cutter, upon arrival off Hueneme, stated that he had searched the coast carefully but saw no traces of the aviators. The McCullough will return to Hueneme after searching Anacapa and other islands.

STATE HIGHWAYS HELD UP—LACK OF FUNDS

Chief Engineer Fletcher Says
18 Million 4 Per Cent Bond Issue Sells Slowly

FEARS SYSTEM WILL NOT BE DONE AT CANAL FINISH

Believes Interest on Bonds
Must be Raised in Order to Sell Them

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 19.—Declaring that the building of state highways aggregating the expenditure of $1,000,000 is being held up because of lack of funds, due to the fact that the $18,000,000 4 per cent bonds issue is not selling rapidly, Austin B. Fletcher, engineer for the State Highway Commission, has expressed the fear that much of the projected highway system will not be finished before the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915. Thus far but $2,000,000 of the issue has been sold.

Fletcher also stated his belief that the next Legislature will have to submit the state highway bonds to another referendum vote to raise the interest to 5 per cent, since it seems apparent to him that the bonds will not sell at the present rate, or, if sold, will be disposed of so slowly that the completion of the highways will be greatly delayed.

"Surveys involving $1,000,000 are already being held back because of lack of funds," Fletcher said, "and this will be increased by fully a half million a month unless the bonds can be quickly disposed of. That will mean that this office will have from 50 to 75 miles of new road surveyed and approved monthly, which cannot be advertised to bidders."

PARADISE FOR THE THRIFTY RANCHER

California Soil Makes Comforts and Luxuries Possible for Her Farmers

Los Angeles Examiner: More ranchers own automobiles in California than in any state in the Union. And when at night they run their autos into garages at their homes and remove their gauntlet gloves, showing diamonds on their fingers, they then go into the parlors of their electric-lighted houses and enjoy the latest music on their automatic pianos or phonographs.

They may finish by sending away letters to their sons and daughters at the most prominent universities.

How do they do it?

Here's the answer, just received from the Census Bureau at Washington. The figures are based on the calendar year of 1909 and should be given liberal increase to meet the wealth advance in the last three years:

Nothing But Money!

In dairy products alone California produced $20,444,900 exclusive of the milk and cream used on the producing ranches. The California ranch housewives enriched their purses $4,000,000 by their churns.

The California ranchers fattened their bank accounts $2,424,000 by wool alone from 1,525,000 sheep of shearing age. The good hen, which occupies the place of honor in the rancher's receipts, enriched the owners $10,263,000. In addition to this, there were 8,430,000 fowls, valued at $4,421,000.

The total number of domestic animals slaughtered reached the total of $33,627,000.

1909 Crop Valued at $153,111,000 But it is California soil and sunshine that brings the luxury to the ranchers. The total value of the 1909 crops was $153,111,000. Of this total less than one-fifth was contributed by

Man for the field, and woman for the hearth;
Man for the sword, and for the needle she,
Man with the head, and woman with the heart;

—Alfred Tennyson.

One reason why women are forbidden to preach the gospel is that they would persuade without argument and reprove without giving offense.—John Newton.

O woman, woman, thou shouldst have few sins of thy own to answer for! Thou art the author of such a book of follies in a man!—Edward Bulwer-Lytton.

DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY

The Democratic members of the next legislature are going to be confronted with a problem which it is hoped they will solve broadly and patriotically. That is, whether they will work as progressives or with other progressives, or whether they will flock by themselves and adopt a policy of obstruction. The only purpose of such a policy would be to hamper the Johnson administration, in the hope that it might to some extent be discredited and therefore be made amenable to attack in the campaign of 1914. In the meantime the state's interests would suffer.

In the 1911 session the Progressives and Democrats worked together in harmony, and splendid results were accomplished for California. There is every reason why the same line of policy should be adopted this year. So far as the legislators are concerned, in the duties they were elected to perform, there should be no distinction. All progressives should work together for good legislation, leaving reactionary members to oppose such legislation. By pursuing these tactics, both the Democrats and the Progressives would win the thanks and favor of the people of the state. The Progressives show every disposition to take that course. If the Democrats fail to take it, it would seem that rather than discrediting the present administration, they are more apt to discredit themselves and their party.

FAVORS PAN-PARTISAN CAUCUSES

The California Outlook has launched a discussion which is now being participated in by members-elect of the legislature and by public officials and politicians throughout the state. This has to do with the manner in which caucuses shall be held in the next legislature, if they are held at all.

The Outlook believes that the time has come when the strict party lines heretofore observed in legislative sessions should be wiped out. It urges that the duty of the legislators is simply to take care of the interests of the people of the state, without attempting to use their offices and their votes for the purpose of building up political parties. It points out that in nearly all cities in California non-partisanship is now the order in municipal administration. The results secured have been very satisfactory. There is no reason, it argues, why members of the legislature should haggle about party matters and waste their time in doing useless petty politics when the interests of the state are so large as to demand all the time, attention and wisdom that can be applied to them by the members of the law-making body.

The principle laid down is that if there are to be caucuses for the purpose of organizing the senate and assembly, there should be only one line of division, and that a line separating members who are in favor of enacting progressive legislation from those who will oppose everything of a progressive nature.

The membership of the assembly is eighty and of the senate forty. In the coming assembly there will be forty-five members elected as Progressive Republicans, twenty-five elected as Democrats, nine who are known as Taft Republicans and one Socialist. In the upper house there are twenty-seven Progressive Republicans, ten Democrats and three Taft Republicans. It will thus be seen that the Progressives have a majority in each house.

Under the old system which obtained when the Herrin regime was in control the majority always caucused, took all the patronage, and denied patronage privileges to members of the minority. The majority caucus also controlled the course of legisla-

THE INTERNATIONAL "BEN HUR"

Spectacular magnificence, dramatic splendor and religious ecstasy are the most notable concomitants of Klav and Erlanger's International production of "Ben-Hur," which will be the offering at the Mason Opera House the week of Dec. 23 to 28. During the thirteen years which have passed since the original presentation of this noble drama—its owners have not only kept it up to its original grandeur, but have elaborated and developed the possibilities of the production each season, until today it stands unrivaled in beauty and splendor of establishment, unsurpassed in dramatic significance and power. It was the "last word" of the stage craft of the nineteenth century and into the new age it brought a bigness and perfection which will remain the standard for decades to come.

Dealing with the earth life of Jesus, the most important period in history, "Ben Hur" shows the world at its most wonderful point in magnificence and wealth, for Rome ruled the world and Caesar Augustus was Emperor of the mightiest realm the earth had known. Into this time of display and pomp came the lowly Nazarine, the Christos for whom the nation had longed, and it is this personality of Jesus that, permeating the fabric of the Wallace-Young drama, makes it a sermon as well as a drama of tremendous significance. The reverence with which the imminence of Christ is indicated has made "Ben-Hur" a religious pageant, while the sweep of the story of "Ben-Hur" and Messala, Esther and Iras, carries audiences off their feet, the culmination of the dramatic plot being the chariot race, wherein Ben-Hur conquers and degrades his enemy.

Nothing more realistic than this scene in the arena of the Circus of Antioch with Ben-Hur and Messala contending for supremacy has ever been imagined by a dramatist or executed by a producer. The race enthralls because on its outcome depends life, love, honor, riches to the victor, and when Ben-Hur receives the victor's crown of wild olive, audiences applaud with the greatest enthusiasm. "Ben-Hur" matinees are announced for Christmas Day and Saturday. The prices for all the performances are 50c to $2.00. Mail orders will receive prompt attention.

This year a situation is presented which bids fair, if the right policy is adopted, to wipe out mere partisan lines and allegiances and to secure the co-operation of all Progressives of all parties.

The method by which this could be brought about would be a caucus—if any caucus is held—of all Progressive members of the legislature without respect to their general party allegiances. That is, the Progressive Republicans, the Progressive Democrats and those members who are known as Progressives only. This would mean a caucus of legislators favorable to Progressive legislation. All who remain out of the caucus would naturally align themselves as opponents of the Progressive program. There would seem to be no reason why Progressive legislators could not work in harmony and for the common purpose of advancing the state's interests, leaving party designations and differences to political campaigns. It is also being urged by the California Outlook that the old line of patronage division be done away with and that each member of the legislature, no matter what his political affiliations, be given the same treatment as his fellows. The members of the legislature were elected by the people to do the people's business, and it is obvious that they ought to have every facility for performing their duties.

LAUNCHING OF HYDROPLANES FROM SHIP DECK IS SOLVED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—As the result of experiments with a catapult launching device, naval officers believe the problem of successfully launching hydro-aeroplanes from the decks of battleships has been solved. The launching device is the invention of Capt. W. R. Chamberhead of the navy aviation squad, and is operated by compressed air. The apparatus can be affixed to a revolving gun turret within thirty minutes, after which the turret could be turned so as to throw the flying machine into the teeth of the wind.

MORE CHARTER TALK.

"If a son shall ask a fish of any of you that is a father, will he not for him give him a serpent?" This striking question asked centuries ago is pertinent today. It is the duty of parents to provide wholesome food for the children. This statement requires no argument. Yet the parents of Santa Ana are in danger of giving their children food that is poisoned with sewerage. The bottle of milk a mother gives her tender babe may contain the germs of a dread disease. That this is a real and constant danger has been shown by a scientific examination of some of the vegetables and milk sold in the city. Under the present form of government the city has no authority to protect itself from poisoned food. The proposed charter makes adequate provision for securing a pure food supply. It should receive hearty support and overwhelming endorsement at the polls.

GOVERNOR STIRS WRATH

Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce Enraged at Action of State's Chief Executive

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 19.—Members of the Chamber of Commerce are enraged because of the action of Governor Johnson in referring their request that he remove Commissioner Darlington of the State Highway Commission to that body itself. A letter received yesterday by Secretary McLeod of the Chamber and immediately placed in the hands of the directors seemingly attempts to make fools of the members and a joke of the request of the boosting body.

Instead of replying to the request that he remove Darlington, the Governor referred the request to Darlington himself, who wrote the Chamber as follows:

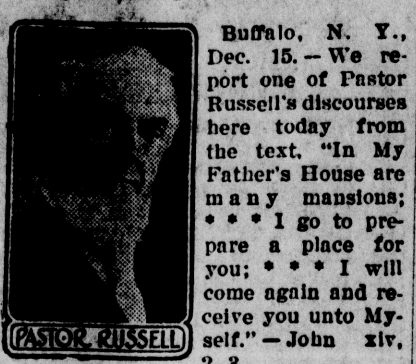

"Your communication with reference to routing the state highway from Santa Barbara south has been referred by the Governor to this department for attention, and it will receive the prompt and serious attention of the commissioners."

That Darlington would consider for a moment the removal of himself from the commission is a thing that the local Chamber members cannot conceive of. The Governor will hear from the Chamber, a little more forcibly this time.

HEAVENLY MANSIONS IN FATHER'S HOUSE

Jesus Now Makes Ready For His Bible, the Church.

Places For Humanity and For the Angels of Various Degrees, Cherubim, Seraphim, Principalities and Powers, but None Previously Prepared For the Bride—She Is God's New Creation—Here to Be the Highest Place, the Divine Nature.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 15.—We report one of Pastor Russell's discourses here today from the text, "In My Father's House are many mansions; * * * I go to prepare a place for you; * * * I will come again and receive you unto Myself."—John xiv, 2, 3.

The Heavenly Father "dwelleth not in temples made with hands." In the largest sense the whole Creation is His House, every apartment of which shall ultimately be peopled with holy, happy beings. "All the wicked will He destroy."—Psalm cxlv, 20.

Man's fallen condition is the result of heredity. God made Adam in His own image, perfect, upright, holy. Disobedience and sin have wrought mental, moral and physical infirmities, and "There is none righteous, no, not one." All are prone to sin "as the sparks to fly upward."

God provided Adam a mansion—the earth—Paradise. But sin (not unforeseen) brought Adam and his race under a death sentence. God chose to permit sin and death to reign during Six Great Days of a thousand years each, thus to give valuable lessons to both angels and men. He does not intend that this lesson shall work disadvantage to any. He has provided a great Redemption, which shows His sympathy for His creatures and the unchangeableness of His Law.

The Divine Program for dealing with this rebellious province is to be carried out by the Kingdom of Messiah, during the Seventh Great Thousand-year Day. Satan and every evil influence shall be restrained. "The Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in His beams," and the curse of death will be set aside. Man will be assisted toward righteousness and life everlasting by the interposition of the Kingdom for which we pray. "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth, even as it is done in Heaven."

Humanity's Mansion—Perfected Earth. At the close of Messiah's reign the "mansion" appropriated to Adam and his race will be fully released from the curse, and God's footstool will be a glorious Paradise. (Isaiah lx, 13.) All refusing the blessings of Messiah's Kingdom will be destroyed by the Second Death.—Acts iii, 23; Rev. xx, 14, 15.

While there were places arranged in the Divine Plan for the angels, and for humanity, no habitation was perfected for the Church. This is because the Church is a New Creation.

Writing of these, St. John says: "The world knoweth us not, even as it knew Him not." St. Paul refers to this New Creation as the "ministers of God." All of these demonstrate their faith and obedience by walking the "narrow way" of self-sacrifice, "by faith and not by sight." To all of them it is declared, "Through much tribulation shall ye enter the Kingdom." But this class have the assurance that "all things work together for good to them"; that they "shall not be tempted above that they are able to bear."

This New Creation is "made a spectacle to angels and men"; God is giving the angels a great object lesson in connection with the development of this class. He is able to transform some of the mean things of this world into polished "jewels," "a royal diadem in the hands of thy God."—Malachi iii, 17; Isaiah lxii, 3.

Heavenly Mansion For Church. St. Peter tells about the "mansion" designed for the Church, saying, "God hath given unto us [consecrated followers of Jesus] exceeding great and precious promises, that by these we might become partakers of the Divine nature."—1 Peter i, 4.

Thus we see what it means to be members of the New Creation! "Eye hath not seen; ear hath not heard; neither have entered the human heart the things which God hath in reservation for them that love Him"—the choicest mansion, the highest place! As our Lord Jesus in His Resurrection ascended "far above angels," so will His Church, who will share His Resurrection, and be made "like Him." "See Him as He is," and share His glory. The Master's death was for humanity in general, but its merit remained to be appropriated at the inauguration of His Kingdom. The whole world still "lieth in the Wicked One," until Christ makes satisfaction for their sins with the merit of His sacrifice.

Meantime, our Lord deals merely with His Church, as we read: "He appeared in the presence of God for us" (Hebrews ix, 24)—as the Church's Advocate, to make "satisfaction for our sins." The preparation in us and for us will be completed when the number is full—144,000. It is for us to comply with the conditions of our covenant of sacrifice and to "walk in His steps," thus to make our "calling and election sure," as members of the New Creation.

Pertinent Points in

Proposed Charter

Our proposed charter safeguards the health of the City. Our present Council cannot pass good inspection laws. It cannot prohibit the sale of impure milk in our city; it cannot prohibit the sale of unsound and unwholesome vegetables; it cannot stop the sale of diseased meats and unwholesome food products of any kind; moreover, it cannot preserve the morals of the community; if an obscene show wants to exhibit in the city, our city council has no authority, according to our City Attorney, to prohibit it; certainly our City should have authority to cope with these matters. The proposed charter grants this authority.

Some Things That Our Council Can Do

Under our present City government, three of our City Council can repeal the prohibition ordinance and license saloons any time. Under the proposed charter, saloons can never be licensed unless a majority vote of the electors vote for it.

Again, Chapter 33, Sec. 1, of the Statutes of California, Extra Session of 1911, on a petition signed by not less than twenty per cent of the vote cast within the City for all candidates for governor of the state at the last preceding general election at which said governor was voted for, and contains A REQUEST THAT SUCH ORDINANCE BE SUBMITTED FORTHWITH TO A VOTE OF THE PEOPLE AT A SPECIAL ELECTION, then the legislative body shall either

- Pass such ordinance without alteration * * * * or
- forthwith the legislative body shall proceed to call a special election * *

If the petition be signed by electors not less in number than ten per cent cast for governor as stated above * * * * SHALL BE SUBMITTED by the legislative body to a vote of the electors at the next regular municipal election.

Under the proposed charter it will require a petition signed by fifteen per centum of the ENTIRE REGISTERED electors at the last preceding general municipal election to bring it to a vote.

As the number of votes cast for all candidates for governor at the last general election is a matter of record, as is that of the registered electors of the City of Santa Ana, so it will be easy to arrive at a definite conclusion as to whether it would be easier to bring the matter to a vote of the people on this subject under the present form of government or under the proposed charter.

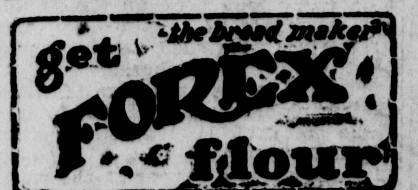

The sentiment of our City is at present seems to be largely in favor of our present anti-saloon conditions, but what will be the conditions after the Panama Canal opens with a large influx of foreigners in our community? Why not settle this matter now, which can be done by adopting the new charter.

TEAM BANQUETTED

Capt. Warren Entertains Football Team of Santa Ana High School

Last evening Capt. "B.H." Warren was host at a banquet in honor of the S. A. H. S. football team, the banquet being held at his home at 814 Parton street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with many and varied penants, and the class colors, red and white, were used throughout. The table was adorned with a large centerpiece of poinsettias and vases of white roses. The archedway between the living and dining rooms was decorated with smilax and red geraniums and from this floral arch a foot ball was suspended. The plate cards were very artistically and appropriately decorated by Roy Phillips, the place each boy held on the team being represented by the design on his card.

Keen disappointment was felt by the boys in the absence of Bertrand West who was unable to be present on account of injuries received in the last game played. He was generously remembered, however, through the kindness of the captain. He was remembered during the banquet with a tray of the good edibles all were enjoying, also a resolution of regret at Bertrand not being able to be present was passed.

Another member of the team who was unavoidably absent was "Tiny" Barker. The boys all enjoyed the sumptuous banquet which was prepared by the captain's mother, Mrs. Lea Warren. The menu included the following things to eat:

Roast Chicken with Dressing
Mashed Potatoes
Cranberry Sauce
Jelly
Fruit Salad
Hot Chocolate
Pumpkin Pie with Whipped Cream
Blanched Almonds

Miss Beth Phillips and Miss Esther Fluor assisted in serving. After the banquet High School Principal McMath acted ably in the capacity of toastmaster and proved himself equal to every emergency. A large number of the boys very willingly responded to toasts. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed with instrumental music and singing. Before the hour for leaving came a vote of thanks was given Mrs. Warren for the delectable banquet and for her interest in the football team.

Those present were Prof. McMath, Prof. Hughes, Coach and Mrs. Ratcliffe, "Nes" Visel, "Spud" Morrison, "Sherry" Smith, "Snooks" Tedford, "Dutch" Holtzgraf, "St" Eaton, "Tubby" Selph, "Dick" Whitson, "Pinky" Timmons, "Robby" Robinson, Tom Hughes, "Fat" Catland, "Jug" Walters, "Bill" Warren. Those of the team not being present were Bertrand West and "Tiny" Barker.

Time Rang Out Fifty Golden Years for Rev. and Mrs. C. H. DeWolfe Yesterday

All of yesterday was given over by Rev. and Mrs. C. H. DeWolfe to the celebration of their golden wedding day. They were joined by some of their children and their families from here and elsewhere, also by other relatives, in the observance of the happy occasion, and in the evening friends of the church to which the DeWolfes belong assembled to voice congratulations and give golden evidence of their interest in the half-century anniversary of wedded happiness.

At 2 p. m. yesterday the DeWolfes sat down to a wedding feast in their own home surrounded by relatives and their pastor and his wife. The following were the guests for whom covers at the turkey dinner were laid:

Rev. and Mrs. Otto S. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, cousins, from Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Catherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Requa, Mr. and Mrs. McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Overman, Mrs. Canterbury, Miss Warren, Miss Catherwood and Master Harding McCarty.

The household had been prettily decorated with green and gold, smilax and golden-tinted chrysanthemums being employed in the decorative effect. Many valuable gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe, many of the presentations being in gold money.

In the evening the sentiments of affection and congratulation were expressed by the friends of the fifty-year married couple in a reception at the first Baptist church. The bride and groom of half a century were smiling and happy as they headed the receiving line in which were their children and relatives who had been their dinner guests. Mrs. DeWolfe carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white tulle and a white carnation adorned the buttonhole of the bridegroom's coat. Following the reception in the Sunday-school room, beautiful with chrysanthemums of yellow and the green of smilax, the company adjourned to the church auditorium where poinsettias, red carnations and potted plants were used in decoration. There an interesting program was given. It was opened with a tender and touching prayer voiced by Dr. J. Herndon Garnett. Percy Lusk playing softly on the pipe organ as the words were uttered. Mrs. Catherwood, a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. DeWolfe, and W. A. Benjamin effectively sang "O, That We Two Were Maying," this being followed by two acceptable numbers from Lou P. Hicks who sang "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Two Roses."

Mrs. Catherwood then rendered a pathetic ballad, "The Little Silver Ring," following it with "Summer" in response to an encore. Mr. Benjamin sang "The Kerry Dancing," responding to an encore with a pretty number. Miss Boyce was introduced by Rev. DeWolfe in a pleasant little talk in which he stated that he had performed the wedding ceremony for her parents. Miss Boyce greatly pleased the company with two readings, "The Golden Wedding," by Emily Huntington Miller, and "Engaged."

Rev. Mr. Russell then made a speech of "golden" eloquence presenting the bride and groom with a purse of gold which he said contained a golden dollar for every year they had been married, a golden dollar for each of the next thirty years of their lives and "then some." In a voice trembling with emotion, Rev. Mr. DeWolfe made an eloquent and fitting response, the theme of his remarks being the beauty and importance of friendship.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments of delicious home-made cake and fruitade were served, ending a delightful and impressive event in the lives of the good man and woman who have traversed life's highway together for fifty long years sharing their sorrows and their joys. And it is quite sure that they are ready to say to each other at the fiftieth milestone: "And taking the year together, My Dear, There isn't more Night than Day."

WORTHY CASE FOR AID FROM THE CARNEGIE FUND

Investigation is being made to determine if the death of Under Sheriff Squires may not entitle his widow to some benefit under the Carnegie hero funds. There is no question in the minds of those familiar with Squires' demise but what his acts in facing danger are worthy of recognition. The demon had challenged him to come and get him. Squires knew the man was armed with a rifle and a revolver. Yet it was Squires' duty to arrest the man, and he proceeded in a calm, brave manner to trail the scoundrel through the brush, knowing that any moment he might be shot.

Luxurious Church Pew.

A good Wilberforce story is told by the Rev. P. H. Ditchfield in "The Old English Country Squire." In the old days the average squire believed in taking his religion easily and comfortably, and his pew was often the most luxurious in the parish. Mr. Ditchfield describes it as "a cozy, sleep provoking structure, curtained off, wherein was often a special fireplace, the pew being furnished like a drawing room. If the clergyman was rather too long preaching his sermon the squire would poke the fire somewhat impatiently and vigorously. It is reported that sherry and biscuits were sometimes served by a livery servant and that the squire used to have his letters and newspapers delivered to him in his pew and to read them during the sermon."

"When Bishop Wilberforce was shown a luxurious squire's pew, with a special fireplace, armchairs and 'every convenience,' and when the clerk asked if the bishop could suggest any improvement or the addition of any furniture Wilberforce quietly whispered to the clergyman by his side, 'A card table.'"

Old Time Hangings.

"The Anglo-Saxons," said a scientist of the British association, "have a great love of hanging, and the science has constantly improved. In medieval times many of the places where they hanged people were provided with a kitchen with big pots of pitch. The bodies were pitched all over and made waterproof and able to resist the atmosphere. Then they were hung out as a warning to other offenders."

"Hanging was also used as an anaesthetic in connection with the old practice of killing a man for high treason by hanging, drawing and quartering him. This kind of hanging did not necessarily hurt a man, for five men hanged in 1447—gentlemen belonging to the Duke of Gloucester—had been marked out to be quartered and drawn when their pardons arrived. They were cut down and soon were none the worse."—London Cor. Baltimore Star.

A Voracious Appetite.

An example of eating to waver in the good old times of a hundred years ago is to be seen in the following newspaper scrap: "A singular wager was decided yesterday at a public house in Shepherd's market. A man of the name of Bushel in that neighborhood undertook for the trifling bid of one guinea to eat and drink in the course of twenty minutes the following articles—viz, six pounds of tripe, two dozens of large onions in sauce, two three-penny loaves, three pounds of potatoes and three pots of porter, the whole of which, to the great astonishment of the company, he devoured in fifteen and one-half minutes, and such was his voracious appetite that he exclaimed that if any man present would treat him with a bumper of brandy and half as much more as he had eaten he would tuck it in."—London Spectator.

India's Butter Trees.

By far the most remarkable of edible flowers is that culled from the butter tree of India. The blossoms of this singular tree are the chief means of subsistence with the Bhils and other Indian hill tribes. An average tree yields from 200 to 350 pounds of pulpy bell shaped flowers that when they drop off during March and April, the hot months of the Indian year, are eagerly gathered by the natives. They have when fresh a peculiar and delicious taste, but the fragrance of them is not pleasant and is best and most briefly described as "mousy." Usually they are cured in the sun, shrivel to one-fourth of their size and then resemble nothing so much as raisins. The natives prepare them for food by boiling or using them in sweetmeats.—Suburban Life Magazine.

Influenza.

Influenza derives its name from an Italian word meaning influence. It was thus entitled by the Italians in the seventeenth century because they attributed the disease to the influence of the stars. A very common belief is that influenza is a comparatively modern disease, dissociated from a general class by latter day medical men, but this is far from being the case, for the illness has been mentioned by ancient writers as far back as the fourteenth century, there being records of its appearance in France in 1311 and 1403.

NEAR ACCIDENT FOR ULM FAMILY

Horses Drawing Carriage Run From Scare Over Street Steam Roller

While returning from the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Ulm yesterday the horses hitched to the carriage containing Mrs. N. A. Ulm and Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Ulm, Misses Audrey and Ruth Ulm and Earl Ulm became frightened at the street roller on East Fourth street and began to run. As they neared the depot the driver saw the noon Santa Fe train nearing the Fourth street crossing and turned the team to the side of the street.

The horses plunged into a telephone pole, badly shaking up the occupants of the carriage, tearing off one of the front wheels of the vehicle and breaking the harness. No one in the carriage received serious injury, although Mrs. N. A. Ulm had her back somewhat wrenched and Mrs. Lamar Ulm suffered a slightly sprained ankle. The others escaped with a shaking up.

MADE A BLUFF AT SUICIDE

Frank Ocampo, the Fish Man,
Fired Shotgun at His Own
Head But Missed it

Frank Ocampo, the fish man, made a bluff at blowing his head off this morning. He says he missed. There is no question but what he is telling the truth about that. He says he intended to kill himself.

It seems that Ocampo had been drinking, and this morning early there were sounds of a family row at his home on East Fifth near the Santa Fe. When some of the neighbors heard a shot in the house, they sent in a hurry call, with the result that Sheriff Ruddock, Deputies Law and Dean and Constable Heard motored to the place in a hurry.

Arrived, they found that Ocampo and his wife had had some words, and Ocampo tried to obliterate a portion of his head by the use of a shotgun. The gun was fired close to his head, but there is no mark or wound.

Francisco Sanchez Crushed to Death in the Santa Ana
Canyon Yesterday

At the quarries of the American Glass Sand Company in the Santa Ana Canyon, above Yorba, Francisco Sanchez, a Mexican workman, was fatally crushed Wednesday afternoon.

During the afternoon the employees had been blasting. A bank of earth some 25 feet above where Sanchez was standing, caved down, burying him under it. About 9 o'clock, four hours after the landslide, the men unearthed Sanchez. He was badly crushed about the hips and abdomen and lived but a short time. Coroner Winbigler held an inquest this morning at Anaheim.

The body will be buried in the Catholic cemetery at Fullerton Friday.

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR OR DANDRUFF

Don't Pay 50 Cents for Worthless Hair Tonics—Use Old, Reliable, Harmless "Danderine"—Get Results

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Advertisement.

40,000 TO ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

Ecclesiastical Event Will be Held in Los Angeles in July, 1913

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Extensive preparations are being made by the convention committee for the Twenty-sixth International Christian Endeavor Convention to be held in this city July 14, 1913. The preparations in progress are being executed with a view to entertaining a minimum of 40,000.

The International Christian Endeavor Convention is probably the largest ecclesiastical event of its kind; its scope includes young people organized in all the evangelical churches, including thirty denominations. The organization is composed of 65,000 societies in the United States and Canada and has a membership of 3,000,000.

Seventy Special Trains
The convention will be of much commercial value to Los Angeles and, according to Mr. Adams, general agent of the Salt Lake Line, it will necessitate the use of seventy special trains on the Salt Lake line alone.

The publicity committee of the convention has to date distributed 125,000,000 pieces of literature, concerning the gathering. The convention committee has been acting in conjunction with the Convention League of this city, which has guaranteed the Endeavor authorities $15,000 to defray the expenses of the conference.

The purpose of the international conventions is to stimulate interest in Christian Endeavor work, to make the Endeavorers acquainted with each other and to secure harmony of action in the great ecclesiastical projects launched by the organization.

IOWANS TO GATHER IN A CELEBRATION

The following has been issued by the Iowa Association of Southern California:

Dear Fellow Iowan:
The Second Annual Admission Day dinner, celebrating the sixty-sixth anniversary of the admission of the Hawkeye State into the Union, will be served at 6:30 o'clock Saturday, December 28, at Hamburger's Cafe, fourth floor, Hamburger store, Broadway and Eighth street.

You and your friends—ladies and gentlemen—are most cordially invited to attend and share in the pleasure of this observance.

As we are obliged to notify the caterer of the number of plates to provide, will you please return inclosed card by December 26, with names of all who will be represented by your check—one dollar per plate.

Please pass this notice on to all your Iowa friends, as there are many the committee cannot reach personally. The impracticability of issuing personal notices to all, will be apparent when we remind you that our list of former Iowa citizens now here, numbers more than 60,000.

Make your check payable to Frank H. Nichols (Cashier California Savings Bank), treasurer of the Iowa Association, and address him at Broadway and Fifth streets, Los Angeles. There will be a short program after dinner followed by a delightful informal social hour.

The number who can be served is limited for want of space and it will be necessary to issue tickets to those who order first, so prompt reply is suggested. Go to the Eight-street entrance, where elevators will be in waiting. Doors open at 6 o'clock. Further information may be obtained from the committee.

OFFICERS BELIEVE HIM TO BE MATLOCK

gon. I was satisfied from his talk that he did not. He said he was just out of the hospital, and he walked very lame. He said he wanted to go to his brother, who lived at the Martette apartments, San Diego. Out of charity I loaned him $5, which he promised to return on reaching San Diego. He wrote his name on this card, 'C. C. Curran.' I heard nothing from him. I wired to the address given in San Diego, and the telegraph company replied that there were no such apartments there. I got that news yesterday afternoon. I then went to the morgue and looked at the man. I had no doubt but what he was the man who gave his name to me as C. C. Curran. On seeing his coat, I knew absolutely he was the man.

Suicide Theory
There are some of the officers who are expressing belief in the theory that Matlock killed himself. There was one exploded cartridge in his revolver. His right arm was disabled, the bullet entered the left side of the head and went almost straight across. A revolver held close would not give as much force to a bullet as if it were several feet. A rifle bullet from any good rifle ought to have gone clear through the man's head.

Measured Distances
City Marshal Jernigan yesterday measured off many of the distances concerned in the affair of Monday morning. Under Sheriff Squires fell exactly 312 feet from where the bandit was stationed. Jackson was shooting from a distance of 250 yards.

Was Then Ira Jones
The dead man used the name Ira Jones in purchasing several money orders at Portland, Ore., in August and September. A wire to the Register from the postmaster there said one was in favor of M. G. Evans of Springfield, another to Frank Minnie of Vida, and a third to Fred Magnus of Waterville, and another to Fred Glenn, all in Oregon.

MATLOCK'S RECORD EXTREMELY UNSAVORY

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 19.—Joe Matlock, Jr., son of a former mayor of Eugene, had an unenviable record here. While yet a high school boy in October, 1902, he assaulted a young girl and was arrested. He forfeited bail of $350 and was not seen in the town for several years. He married but his wife sought a divorce, charging inhuman conduct. While the suit was pending he was arrested October 15, 1909, for assault on a girl. At the trial he admitted the crime, but maintained the girl had accepted a ring from him. He was convicted but appealed and was released on bail of $1500 which his father, who was then mayor, and his brother furnished. He did not appear for trial, and the bond was paid. He has not been since seen in Eugene.

Ira Jones, the name first given to the desperado, is the name of Matlock's brother-in-law. E. D. Matlock, brother of Joe Matlock, Jr., declared last night that Joe is in Australia—that less than two weeks ago he received a cablegram from him. He refused to give any more definite location than "Australia," and further than saying that Joe had broken his leg, would give no details.

GET A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Keep Your Liver and Bowels
Active and You Feel Bully for Months

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Bilio-ness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.—Advertisement.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 19, 1912.

SENATOR ANDERSON PRESENTS HIS VIEWS ON THE CHARTER

Santa Ana, Cal., Dec. 18, 1912.

To the Voters of Santa Ana:

At the time Santa Ana elected her board of freeholders for the purpose of preparing a city charter it appeared that the commission form of government was generally and much desired by our citizens. Men and women voters alike took an active interest in determining the personnel of that board, many if not all of whom took up the arduous task reluctantly, realizing how much study the work involved and how many conferences would be required. They performed their work carefully and intelligently, taking, according to their best judgment, the provisions from approved charters of other cities most suitable to our conditions, and have submitted to us their conclusions. While it has been handed out to us with the unanimous endorsement of the board, and though it were as perfect a charter as ever was drawn, yet it would be impossible to draw any such document in a way to avoid all opposition in a corporation consisting of about five thousand members; but it behooves us to carefully consider the sources from which the opposition arises, the motive of such opposition and the sincerity of the argument advanced.

Every man and woman voter who can read should either read the charter with a view of voting according to his or her own judgment, or be guided by the judgment of the fifteen men who framed the charter, with no other object in mind than improving our city government. Fifteen men more capable, more honest and of better civic standing could not have been selected, and those who have not the time or inclination to study the charter MIGHT BETTER FOLLOW THOSE MEN WHO DID GIVE IT THEIR SPECIAL ATTENTION THAN PERHAPS ANY OTHERS.

I have carefully read our charter, and have also read charters of other cities and observed their workings. I passed the Riverside charter through the State Senate in 1907, and am in favor of the commission form of government and our proposed charter.

Newspaper space will not permit of many specific references to the charter, and I will but briefly take up some of its provisions that I have heard or seen criticized.

First—Attempts, however insincere, have been made to incite opposition on the part of the temperance or anti-saloon element by stating that the charter provisions relating to the liquor question are less exacting than the Wylie local option law, in that an election cannot be called under the latter except through a petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the voters, while under the former only fifteen per cent petition is required. That statement is not borne out by the facts and is misleading.

The local option law requires twenty-five per cent OF THE NUMBER OF VOTES CAST FOR ALL CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR AT THE LAST PRECEDING ELECTION, while the charter requires fifteen per cent NOT ONLY OF SUCH VOTES BUT FIFTEEN PER CENT OF ALL ELECTORS REGISTERED AT THE TIME OF SUCH PRECEDING ELECTION. As the usual vote cast at our elections is about sixty per cent of the registered voters, any variance between the petitions would be insignificant. A careful comparison of the Wylie local option law with the provisions of the charter relating to the liquor question will show the latter a stricter temperance measure than the former.

Second—Notwithstanding statements to the contrary, I submit that the commission form of government, as set out in the charter, is not intended and ought not to increase our municipal expenses and consequently raise the tax rate; but, on the contrary, NOT ONLY DECREASE SUCH EXPENSES BUT GIVE US MORE FOR OUR MONEY. In making such assertion I am not criticising any of our present city officials, but rather arguing for a more business-like system, a system more in keeping with other large corporate concerns; yet surrounded by sufficient safeguards, as will appear on a perusal of the charter, such as: (a) direct nominations by the people; (b) election at large, thus making every commissioner accountable to all the voters; (c) election of commissioners with a view to their fitness for the various departments of the government to which they may be assigned, so that if any one of the four departments should not be properly and efficiently managed, the blame would rest directly upon the commissioner of that department—we would expect him to specialize in his department and not spread his intelligence over the whole city; (d) the short ballot as provided for in the charter ought to tend to more efficiency and economy, by centralizing certain powers and appointive privileges of the board of commissioners—it is the experience of the business world that it is wise

PRESIDENT TAKES YALE LAW CHAIR

Taft Will Likely Assume New Duties in Spring; Will be Free to Lecture

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—It was stated last night that President Taft had accepted the Kent professorship of law at Yale and will probably assume the chair next spring. The President, it is understood, will not be restricted to lectures at Yale, but will be permitted to lecture in other law schools or on the platform, or to engage in any other occupation he may desire.

The President, in accepting the chair at Yale, thus sets aside the idea that has prevailed for some time that he would practice law. He felt that he could not practice before the United States Supreme Court for the reason that he has appointed most of the judges now on the bench. He has also named many other Federal judges in Ohio and other states, before whom he might have had to appear had he resumed the practice of his profession. Many of the President's friends, too, urged him to accept the Yale professorship, and this had great weight with him in making the decision.

Chapman Successful Orange Grower, Gives Talk on the Industry

One of the most interesting addresses delivered before the recent semi-annual convention of the California Fruit Growers' Association in Fresno was that by C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, who spoke of the "Details in Citrus Culture." This was one of the most extensive papers on the industry ever delivered before a growers' convention and brought forth many favorable comments.

In opening his address Mr. Chapman declared that the culture of oranges is the most fascinating, as well as the most discouraging branch of agriculture. This was explained by pointing out that it takes oranges a long time to mature, that they must be carefully watched and are susceptible to many plagues and pests. However, said the speaker, California excels the world in this branch of agriculture. In proof of this statement extracts were read from papers devoted to the interests of fruitmen where it was stated that California oranges command top-notch prices in the fruit market. Extracts taken from appreciations of the Florida orange some years ago were also quoted to show that the California product is something to be appreciated, since it is now the superior of any oranges grown.

Attention was called to the fact that the financial return in citrus culture will always depend upon the quality of the fruit produced and that every grower should labor to improve the quality.

"The first efforts of an orange grower must be directed to the selection of location, the preparation of the land, the quality and condition of the stock, manner of setting it and provision for a reasonable amount of water. Some varieties are better adapted to certain localities than others. The difference is often that between success and failure."

The speaker declared that the grower should select a locality free from the extremes of temperature. Particular attention should also be paid to the adaptability of the soil, he said.

A careful layout of the ground to be planted to citrus trees and holes wide and deep in which has been placed some manure with some soil on the top will greatly insure the success of the future growth, was asserted. Care in transferring the tree from the nursery to the orchard was also dwelt upon. Upon the initial treatment, said Mr. Chapman, will depend the ability of the trees to resist frost, drought and pests.

Cultivation was said to be the prime factor in determining the quality of an orange. Cultivate often and deep at the proper time, was the advice given.

Regarding pruning, the speaker said that enough of the foliage and dead wood should be cut away to allow a free circulation of air through the branches. Vigorous pruning was recommended to improve the quality of the fruit and to make the trees less liable to gum diseases.

That fertilization is necessary, especially in case of old trees, was asserted, although the speaker would not attempt to describe what is necessary in certain localities and under certain conditions.

Less frequent and more thorough irrigation was recommended, the extent to depend upon the nature of the soil.

The black, red and purple scales were declared to be the principal enemies of the citrus industry and fumigation the only remedy.

Regarding the handling of the fruit, the speaker said that the first consideration should be careful picking and that the weakest fruit should be put on the market first. Proper curing before packing, and where washing is necessary its application as soon as the fruit comes from the orchard, was recommended.

The past season was said to be the least profitable and satisfactory in the industry on any experienced by the California growers. This, said Mr. Chapman, was due to the large amount of frost-bitten fruit sent to the Eastern markets at the times when the prices were high.

Could Shout For Joy

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no superior. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at all druggists.—Advertisement.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Terry, nee Lottie Seymour, was born in Poland, near Kennedy, Chautauque county, N. Y., on the fourth day of March, of the year 1856. She married Wm. Terry, who survives her, in April, 1880. For thirty years they lived the tranquil and happy life in the state of New York. Then in 1910 they moved to sunny Orange county and Santa Ana where the spirit of Mrs. Terry winged its flight into the realm of eternity on Sunday morning, December 15.

The Rev. L. H. Koepsel who conducted the funeral services called attention to some of the virtues to be emulated by those who knew her best. Mrs. Terry was unostentatious in everything she did. Her life was lived for the good of others. Even to actual sacrifice she lovingly gave her time and care to her invalid mother, then to relatives and neighbors constantly. She was a faithful wife and helpmeet. Kindness to bring gladness to others was a gracious possession. To have won in a comparatively few months the large number of friends who came to the funeral to show respect for the dead and sympathy for the husband, and her brothers, S. H. W. W. and A. M. Seymour is encomium enough. The body was laid amidst wreaths and flowers in our cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Inwood, having charge at the grave.

Anaheim Landing Action Results in Title Going Against Land Company

Property Reported to be Valued at $100,000; Much in Litigation

Los Angeles Examiner: After many months of hard fought litigation before Registrar Frank Buren of the Federal Land Office, J. C. Ord yesterday won a $100,000 victory. It carried with it title to forty acres across Anaheim Landing from Bay City, which he filed on in 1907 with Valentine Script, but which was claimed by the Alamitos Land Company, and the Anaheim Landing Mining & Development Company.

Valentine was a big ranch owner. He filed, proved and eventually got title to a large government acreage, later the land he had developed was sought by the government. Valentine was loath to part with it, but was finally induced by the tender to him of the script since known in his name.

A large part of the script was secured from Valentine by Ord, and he straightaway filed on the Anaheim Landing acreage. About this time agents of the Anaheim Landing Mining & Development Company appeared on the scene and filed on the acreage as mineral land. They declared gold could be developed and putting in a shaft took out a considerable quantity of what they called ore.

The Alamitos Land Company claimed the land under the contention that it was tide land; hence subject to state and not Federal law. Ord combined with the Alamitos Land Company, combatting a claim on the part of the Anaheim Landing Company that the ground was mineral bearing. Inspection of state records caused the Alamitos Company to offer a stipulation that it had no title.

Registrar Buren stated that this

BEEES MAKE HIM MONEY

Forty Stands Produce 2500 Pounds for J. P. Summers of Chico This Season

CHICO, Dec. 19.—J. P. Summers has on hand more than 2500 pounds of honey made in his apiary this season. In addition Summers has sold several hundred pounds of the season's make. Most of the honey was made by the forty stands of old bees. Summers has seventy stands of bees, but thirty are this season's swarms and did not produce a great deal of honey.

Several of Summers' colonies have produced 100 pounds of honey each this season, besides one or two new swarms. Since he is selling his comb honey at 12½ cents, it will be seen that his bees are good profit payers.

Danger in Delay

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Santa Ana People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Santa Ana.

W. A. Irvine, 811 E St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I am as firm a believer in Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I publicly vouched for their merits in March 1907. The praise I give Doan's Kidney Pills is duly warranted, as their use has brought me relief on a number of occasions from backache and sharp pains through my loins. This medicine which was procured at Dean's Drug Store (now Wheeler & Mateer's Drug Store) has also been helpful in other ways, relieving soreness through my kidneys and regulating the passages of the kidney secretions."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

Holiday Trips To Yucaipa

During the Holiday season we will continue our trips to the Yucaipa valley. You may have your choice of either going on the railroad or in our automobile. Either way the trip is made in one day, and the expense is the same, either way. And a fine trip it is. Up the Santa Ana river, through Corona, to Riverside by way of Magnolia avenue, to Colton, San Bernardino, Highlands and to famous Redlands. Then by auto into the Yucaipa valley and over our eleven thousand acre tract, where in two and a half years, twenty-five hundred acres have been set to trees, under the most up-to-date irrigating system to be found in Southern California. The "South Bench," the very cream of the valley is now being rapidly sold out 40,000 trees will be set out in this subdivision before next spring.

Orchards may be planted and cared for by experts at less cost than you can do it yourself unless you live on the ranch. Soon this choice land will be all sold out—likely within the next 90 days, and then you will regret that you did not act promptly.

Plenty more just as good! Not by a jugful. We have more land, but not up on this high bench where the altitude is 3000 feet and the climate perfectly suited to the growing of all kinds of fruits, especially Big Red Apples. No late frosts, no destructive winds, no intense heat, no stones, brush, cactus or hummocks, but soil like a garden. Oh, but you are going up to see it for yourself. Get interested at once. Come to our office and arrange to go.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Thirteen carloads of bananas were reported yesterday. The demand is expected to be very good for the next week or so. Some dealers predict an advance of 1/2 cent. Receipts of apples were light—635 boxes—but the supply on the market is very good. There is a possibility of an advance during the week in the price of some of the more prominent varieties. Increased holiday demand will be responsible for this if it occurs. Good persimmons were still quite plentiful. Strawberries were quoted up 1 or 2 cents in most instances, and were quite scarce. Green beans were much firmer, owing to a shortage in the supply. No dried beans were reported in. Receipts of other staple vegetables were fair—1162 sacks of potatoes, 300 sacks of onions and sixty of sweet. The market remained about the same, and a change in the easy onion and potato prices is not anticipated.

Northern fresh cheese was still weak with offerings as low as 17 cents. The market in San Francisco was reported easy. Receipts were 590 pounds. The demand was somewhat light.

Eggs remained firm. Receipts were larger than usual—175 cases. The market in San Francisco was reported weak at 33. If prices decline in the northern city, there may be a further drop off here.

The feeling was firm in the butter market. Receipts were 24,653 pounds.

SOME INSIDE FACTS AS TO MOTIVES AND FORCES WHICH DEFEATED L. A. CHARTER

From the California Outlook

It is difficult, sometimes, to bestow credit where it is due. Credit is always desirable, and when there is any tendency to deny glory to those who do not admire, however rich the deserving.

And again, knowing where credit should be given, we sometimes hesitate to be just. There is a natural human tendency to deny glory to those who do not admire, however rich the deserving.

With this preface, let us repeat what we said last week. The credit for the defeat of the charter voted upon by the citizens of Los Angeles on December 3 belongs wholly to the Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Times. It would perhaps be better to write "responsibility" instead of "credit"; but let it stand.

It is altogether the part of wisdom that the people of Los Angeles should liberally acknowledge the victory won by the Hearst and Otis dailies. And, now that we know just who "killed Cock Robin," we should not forget.

The fact is, thousands of citizens now realize that they were tricked, misled, deceived; that the fight against the charter was waged not upon meritorious argument, but by means of misrepresentation, distortion and downright falsification. Now that the smoke of battle is rising, the people can perceive more clearly that the motive actuating the Hearst and Otis papers was not one springing from consideration of the city's welfare, but rather that it emanated from the long-accumulated dislike entertained by these papers and the political interests they serve, toward all those who have been prominent in the political contests which in the past few years have demolished the old machine, and toward those who have striven for better local government in Los Angeles.

At the same time the people have come to understand that, as an organic law for the control of Los Angeles the present charter is impossible. No agency of publicity could be more busily engaged than are the Times and the Examiner—especially the latter—in telling the public of the immediate necessity for the adoption of a new and modern charter.

Now, let us bear this in mind; for developments are going to be of interest and significance. The defeated charter was framed by a board of fifteen freeholders. Perhaps no member of the board if left to himself would have written the charter exactly as it was finally submitted. There were strong opinions, often conflicting, as to various matters. But compromises were necessary, and they were made; and as the charter was submitted it was pronounced by the most eminent experts in the nation to be the most logical and practical instrument of its kind ever devised for a large American city. It contained the best obtainable ideas thus far developed, and the guiding principles were such that all members of the board of freeholders came into harmony and agreement.

It is probable that another charter or amendments to the same end will be framed—how and by whom remains to be determined. Let us make this prediction, that whenever this charter is offered it will be found to follow, in essentials, the principles embraced in the defeated charter. The truth is that a student of municipal government, whether he be a "doctrinaire" or a "hard-headed business man" cannot land elsewhere. To be efficient and economical, municipal government must be conducted on business principles, and the commission plan is the only plan that comprehends a business system. We confidently expect to be able to present, hereafter, an enlightening article upon the similarities between the rejected charter and the next one that may be framed.
